

Closure of Equipment – Overhead Carousel, Iver Recreation Ground

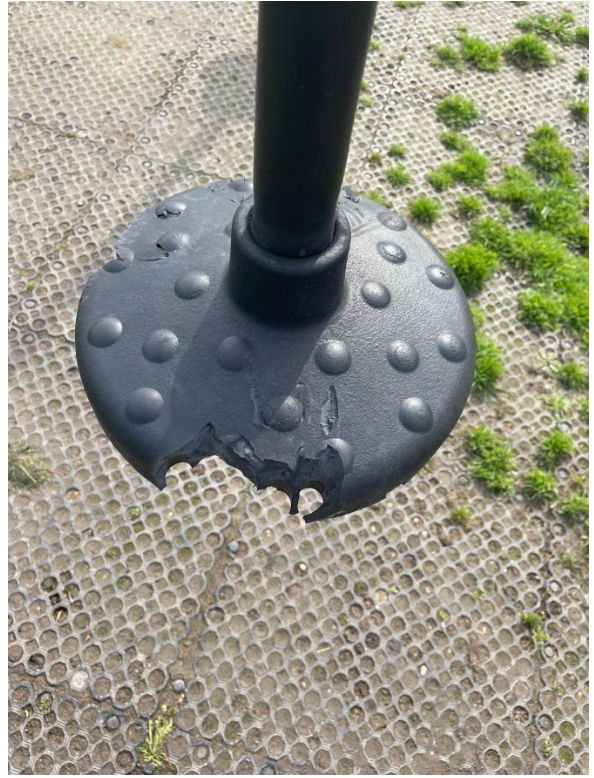

Due to persistent criminal damage to a piece of equipment at the Iver Recreation Ground, the officers have taken the equipment out of use.

The Overhead Carousel (pictured) is designed to be sat on using the button seats and swung round.

For some time, irresponsible dog owners have been seen allowing dogs to hang off the button seats whilst the carousel is swung. In late April, 4 of the seats were replaced at a cost of £400. A post was made on our Website that these had been replaced and asking dog owners to refrain from allowing dogs to do this. Within 10 days of installation, 3 of the seats have been damaged such that they are not useable for the intended use.

The columns and button seats have been removed. A further posting has been placed on the Council's website regarding the criminal damage.
